

COORDINATE REMOTE VIEWING TRAINING (CRVT)

CRVT Report: 992

DATE/TIME CONDUCTED: 171105Jan83

SOURCE #: 63

FILE #: 14

SITE: Ground Zero - Hirohsine, Japan

EVALUATION: Good S1 and S2
Decoding problems but understandable

17 Jan 83
1105

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Rolling
B -

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Rolling
B water c

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Rolling Point
B L/w interface

S-Z

Rising land smooth Pc

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Rolling
B land

lite Brown Rolling Flat
open PC

Manet
small rolling hills NS Flat

34° 12' N
32° 16' 1

A Rising
B land

S-2 solid change
Flat
Brown PC

change is from shifting land to solid land

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Vertical B manmade

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A angles
B Building

S-2 warm CFB
small PC/CFB

Aol Break
Small village feeling

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A flat
B land

S-Z

lite brown green open

Blue \approx water white \approx
gray buildings \leftarrow old \leftarrow

Aol break

N.C. feeling old village near sea sand dunes some green

AI Break

Small friendly place
Warm

34° 12' N
32° 16' E

A Angles
B Building

J-2

gray c

Pack CFB

single CFB

Verticle

At Break

like a sea wall or fortress square stone c

34° 12' N
82° 16' E

A interrupted
B Buildings

A changing direction
B -

S-2 stone gray - large stone long low CFB
Rising CFB

- 4w in face - Blue/white water
- land hilly, flat on all brown/green
 - Buildings - stone
gray - verticle
 - change

Aol Break lighthouse

- AT
- warm
 - sunny
 - happy feeling
 - comradesie

84° 12' N
32° 16' E

A flat Rising
B. man made

S-Z Roads c old buildings Row houses or outdoor Aol Break lost feeling

34° 12' N

32° 16' E

A flat N/S
Open water

S-Z

Ward

lite Brown

kat

cone/harbor vertices green

mtns N/S

Asl Break

Island c

End

skeletal dome, foreground, marks the point over which an atomic bomb exploded on August 6, 1945. It took 100,000 lives, including those of the husband and three daughters of Mrs. Yuki Sakamura (right). She herself was less than a mile from the hypocenter. Yet she has put away anguish, and can say of her life today, "Laughter brings some happiness."

